Uepi is the only operation on this remote island which is approximately 2.5km long and up to 600m wide. The whole area, aside from the resort's cultivated tropical gardens, is covered with tropical rainforest interspersed with walking tracks.

Uepi Island Resort is the ultimate escape, located on a small tropical island which is perched on the edge of the longest lagoon in the world. A classic raised barrier reef covered in impressive rainforest outlined by fringing reef and sandy beach. It is flanked by the warm lagoon waters on one side, great for swimming, paddle boarding, kayaking or sail boarding; and oceanic water on the other which offers spectacular snorkelling and scuba diving. This area of the Solomons also offers opportunities for visitors to experience the culture of the local people whilst relaxing in a tranquil environment.
